Vo-Ag May Disappear From Antioch Township High School Curriculum

Enrollment Down to Twenty Business Courses Show Big Increase

Enrollment in Vocational agriculture at the Antioch Township High school for next autumn is so small that the board of education is considering omission of that subject until there is a greater demand.

In the place of agriculture students have manifested an increasing interest in individual education, business education, home making and science.

Whether this is a sign of encroachment of the metropolitan and industrial into Lake Villa and Antioch townships is not stated by the school authorities, but the fact is that where once under the late C. L. Kuttel the agriculture classes were among the largest in the school, only 20 have enrolled for 1951-52.

The classes were on the decline before his retirement because of the changing interests of the young people in their future work.

The report of Principal R. C. Edmundson says:

Pre-enrollment of the students in the high school for the school year 1951-52 indicate a large increase of pupils interested in industrial arts and business education departments. Well equipped shops and other facilities for woodworking, mechanical drawing, electricity, and general metals are provided in the addition which will be ready for use at the opening of school in September. These additional facilities should relieve some of the crowded conditions which existed during the last few years due to a gradual but steady increase in enrollment.

One of the rooms in the old building which has been used for mechanical drawing will be available next year for the business education department. The enrollment in the department has increased during the last two years to the point where the board of education found it necessary to employ an additional teacher. There was considerable increase in enrollment in 1950-51 over that of 1949-50 and the total number of students enrolled in the business education department for 1951-52 will be approximately three times greater than that of the enrollment in 1949-50. A course in salesmanship has been introduced for the first time next year and is open to seniors.

Vocational agriculture which in times past was one of the largest and most popular department in the high school has been steadily declining in enrollment, although the total school enrollment has been gradually increasing. Three freshmen, eleven sophomores, three juniors, and three seniors registered for the course only ten live on farms larger than eighty acres and come from families who derive a large share of its income from agriculture.

The instructor finds it difficult for students to develop worthwhile and acceptable projects who do not live on farms of eighty acres or more. Also it is difficult to maintain interest in a class with only three or four students. The enrollment and the community interest in vocational agriculture has declined so much during the last two or three years that the board of education is seriously considering discontinuing the department for the time being, and reopen the department when a sufficient number of students enroll who are interested in vocational agriculture.

The addition of the new building provides excellent facilities for the department and the board of education will finish the building as originally planned.

"The board of education feels that if the facilities are completed that it will be relatively simple to reopen the department when the enrollment justifies the employment of a full time instructor. People in the community who are interested in a further and more detailed discussion of the situation are invited by the board of education to meet at the high school building, Monday evening, July 2, at 8 o'clock."

Village Budget for 1951-52 Calls for Spending $65,291

The appropriation ordinance as prepared by the village board Monday shows an increase from $63,611 in 1950 to $65,291 this year, a difference of $1,680.

This increase is accounted for in the planned purchase of a police squad car and the need of a building to house street repair equipment which will be replaced in the village garage by the car. A part of certain expenses have been reduced.

Three Antioch Men Hurt In Car-Truck Collision On Rte. 173 Last Friday

Bruno Manzardo, 33, of the Antioch Servicenter, and a companion, Russell Elliott, 24, local restaurant man, escaped serious injury Friday afternoon when the car Manzardo drove collided with an oil truck driven by Emil Risch, also of Antioch.

The accident occurred a mile west of Rte. 45 on Rte. 173 when Risch made a left turn into the R. G. Richards farm home while Manzardo was trying to pass it and a line of cars going east.

Manzardo drove off the road in an attempt to avoid the collision but struck the rear of the truck, hit a culvert and rolled over striking a tree.

The truck rammed into another tree 50 feet farther east on the north side of the road, and Risch received bruises.

All three were treated for their cuts and bruises by local physicians.

The passenger car, a new one, was demolished and the entire left side of the truck was damaged.

What the cause was is not known, but Elliott discovered after the accident that the entire seat of his trousers was missing.

Coddington Hardware Store to Have Grand Opening June 22, 23

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Coddington will have a grand opening of their new hardware store at Nabor's Corners, Rte. 173 and 59 tomorrow and Saturday.

An invitation has been extended to the public to come in and inspect the stock which is one of the best in the suburban area outside of Chicago.

The new building permits plenty of display on attractive counters with spacious aisles. The stock includes general hardware, paints, tools, builders' hardware, plumbing and electrical supplies, farm and garden tools, household equipment, toys and fishing equipment.

As an example the plumbing supplies have 24 sizes of bushings. There are many hard to get items, too.

For the occasion, the new proprietors are giving away a Nesco roaster, Sunbeam Mixer, Dornier Fryer, Schwinn-built bicycle, and Pfeuffer Supreme fishing reel.

The store will be open from 7:30 to 6 p.m. daily and from 6 to 9 p.m. on Fridays and 8 to 1 p.m. on Sundays. There is plenty of parking space around the building.

Ed Runnfeldt, son-in-law of the Coddingtons and Mike Wetzel will be associated with them in the business.

The Coddingtons, although former Chicago residents, are not new to Antioch. They have had their summer home at Channel lake for many years and grew attached to the community to such an extent that they decided to engage in business here.

Born in Avon township February 27, 1874, his youth was spent there, and about the turn of the century he came to Antioch where he was engaged in the meat business in a building where the King building now stands. Upon selling the market he was employed by the Sinclair and Standard Oil companies, often hauling gasoline to Antioch from Waukegan by horse and wagon. He retired about ten years ago.

Reintner hit for an extra base and N. Hartman and Penza of Kenosha also got two-base hits.

Gas Users May Soon Pay Bills Bi-Monthly According to P.S.C.

Antioch and Lake Villa customers of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois will soon be paying their electric and gas bills every other month instead of monthly, according to a proposal filed by the company Friday with the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Reasons given for the proposed change are operating economies, customer savings and convenience, and conservation of manpower. Public Service plans to start putting the new program into effect in August.

The company informed the commission that the proposed change over from monthly to bi-monthly billing is primarily in the interest of economy. Annual savings of $500,000 (before federal income taxes) are estimated. It was also pointed out that the new program would be a convenience to a vast majority of the company's customers who would pay bills six times a year instead of twelve as at present. Customer savings in postage, checks, money orders, etc., are estimated at $100,000 a year.

The company asserted that it had been following a policy of strictest economy in keeping with good service in an effort to offset rising operating costs. Despite this policy, expenses are still rising, it was said.

Would Keep Rate Down — but "This request, if granted, will be another major step in our efforts to keep electric and gas rates as low as possible in the face of higher operating costs," a company statement said. "Reading meters and preparing and mailing bills to more than 600,000 customers each month is a costly operation."

"The plan should be a convenience for the vast majority of our customers. The average monthly residential electric bill today is about $4.81. Under the new plan the average electric bill would be $9.62 every other month instead of $4.81 each month."

"For general gas customers, exclusive of space heating and water heating, the average bill is now $2.16 a month. The average residential gas user, therefore, would pay $4.32 every other month."

May Pay Estimated Amount

The company proposes to notify customers — electric and gas — that they may make payments on an estimated basis in the months in which they do not receive bills, should they prefer to do so.

The company said that bi-monthly billing will also conserve manpower now being affected by the defense program. With many employees going into the armed forces, the program will involve no layoffs.

Large commercial and industrial users, governmental agencies, municipalities and schools will stay on a monthly basis, the company said.

For customers who use gas for space heating, a two-way choice would be available: (1) bi-monthly meter reading and billing under the new plan, (2) bi-monthly meter reading with a budget payment plan under which the annual gas heating bill can be paid in monthly installments throughout the year.

Addition to Church Started This Week

Excavation for the new church school addition of the Methodist church was started this week. An effort will be made to have the $43,000 addition containing classrooms, assembly space, kitchen and stage completed for occupancy this year.

The content of the excavation was a good grade of gravel and very little top soil.

Kessenich New Coach In Football at A.T.H.S., Other Teachers Hired

Two new teachers, one a head football coach, have been added to the staff of the Antioch Township High school and one to the Antioch Grade school according to announcements of principals.

Kessenich now at the University of Wisconsin working toward a master's degree in physical education, is a graduate of that university. He earned two minor letters and one major letter in football.

Kessenich served in the marines 26 months. He has a wife and one child.

Stanley Klonowski, Kenosha, Wis., has been employed to teach in the business education department. He was graduated from Whitewater Teachers college, Whitewater, Wis., and has had seven years Leo High school, Chicago, and two of teaching experience five years at years in a community high school at Kampsville, Ill. He is finishing work for his master's degree in business education at the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Ia.

Sequoits Beat Grayslake And Barrington 4 to 3; Lost to Woodstock 8-2

Pregenzner's wildness in the second inning in which he walked four men lost the Woodstock game. Lubkeman relieved him but not until Woodstock had scored six runs.

The Summary:
Antioch ..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 — 2-1
Woodstock ..... 1 6 0 1 0 0 — 8-2
Elgin will play here Friday. Antioch's standing now is three games won and one lost.

GOVERNMENT WITHOUT REPRESENTATION

One grave defect in the government's present price control program is that the Office of Price Stabilization has so far failed to authorize the appointment of an advisory committee composed of retail representatives. A bulletin issued by a national retailers' organization* recently observed wryly that O P S "appears to believe retailers are too insignificant to justify such a committee."

What this amounts to is that, so far as price control is concerned, we have government without representation of the governed. There are, believe it or not, more than 3,000,000 retail outlets in this country. They are of all kinds and sizes, from the biggest chain to the smallest one-man shop. They sell every conceivable sort of commodity. Their operators are the people who come in direct, daily contact with the masses of consumers. The whole success of the price control effort depends upon their cooperation—and upon their understanding of what must be done. Finally, they are the ones who can tell O P S and any other interested agency what is feasible in the way of regulations and what is not. It seems inconceivable that the retailers have no official method of making their problems known to price control officials. Unless the retailers can and do obey the regulations the whole program is doomed to failure. Almost no one buys commodities from the factories which produce them. We all do our buying in retail stores, and the retailer knows our desires and needs.

Any price control program should invite the official participation of all concerned—and that means producers, manufacturers, retailers, and consumers.

IN THE SAME BOAT—FINALLY!

Secretary Snyder recently observed that any further increase in income taxes fall with the greatest weight on people with small and moderate incomes. He pointed out that 58 per cent of all taxable income now goes to those who earn less than $5,000 a year.

This should destroy, once and for all, the old illusion that we can pay for the government-editorial, "It may be an unpleasant fact, but it is a fact nevertheless, that, thanks to our reluctance to tax courageously in the past, we have now reached the point where the individual income tax is already far too steeply progressive. . . . Political taxation, in short, has at last been stretched to its full limit; the time has come when, whether we like it or not, we must approach the problem on the economic level."

In the higher brackets, the incomes of the wealthy a flat 100 per cent, the additional revenue gained would hardly make a dent in today's governmental budgets. The families with modest incomes must carry the load.

This should have one extremely salutary effect. Everybody—from the man who works with his hands to the executive who runs a big company—now has a direct and personal interest in taxation, and in governmental extravagance and waste. Everybody's pocketbook is involved. The whole public, out of a universal self-interest, now has a reason to demand, and get, economy in government.

"THE CHEAPEST HELP"

The Cleveland Plain Dealer recently carried an exceptionally interesting article, signed by John C. Davis, describing an experiment which demonstrates what electricity can do to solve high farm production costs and short labor supplies.

In 1944, electricity first came to a 262-acre farm in Ohio. This particular farm is an average operation in dairying and general farming, typical of the Midwest. Beginning from scratch, complete records have been kept.

In 1944, the farm returned to the owner 66 cents for each productive labor hour. By 1950, due to the aid of electrical equipment, this had risen to $1.17.

Before electricity was used, the farmer and his son put in 6,860 man hours in a year to operate 140 acres. In 1950, they worked only 4,532 hours and operated 122 additional acres as well as the original 140.

The biggest saving of all came when the dairy barn was completely electrified. Now the milking job can be handled by one man in 40 minutes, where it took three 50 minutes.

This is not a dude farm, nor is it a high-priced experiment. Each piece of equipment was bought by the farmer at retail. The equipment now in use includes an electric water pumping system, a power feed grinder, a cement mixer, a grain and hay elevator, electric lights, the milking machines and the usual list of household labor saving appliances.

In the words of this farmer, "There is no such thing as 'push button' farming. But electricity provides the most valuable hired hand I ever had. . . . It is the cheapest help on the farm."

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

You know the old song where it is "giddap Napoleon it looks like rain," and where the farmer comin' into town meets the city slicker who offers him 2 tens for a 5, and to which offer the farmer said—as the song goes—"I knew right away the feller was a fool or a liar."

Well now folks—city folks especially—in this modern era of speed and mayhem there is not a super amount of time for thinking on our own hook. Our thinking has been farmed out—turned over to the swivel chair marvels and gentry there on the Brainy Potomac. Nobody is going to convince me that any amount of personal pondering is going on when a Nation sits by and allows, without protest, a River Basin gent from Wash. D. C. blurt out in the press that the Govt. must take over, even more and more, to prevent in our U. S. A., a dire power shortage. What the man says is not so—not even one per cent so. He talks through his socialist skimmer.

If the city and town folks were half as alert as the farmer in the Song, they would know right away that the River Basin gent was puttin' one over, or tryin' to do so.

Yours with the low down,
 JO SERRA

Farm Women Entertain Town Ladies With Dinner

EXIRA, Iowa—Audubon county's first dinner sponsored by farm women with town women as their guests was held recently in the Memorial hall of Audubon.

The results of such dinners in other counties in Iowa prompted the action of Audubon county farm women.

Members of the farm women's organization that sponsored the event reported such dinners have brought about a closer working relationship between farm women and town women with a clearer understanding of each others problems and viewpoints.

Village Couple Have 21 Children; Happy Family

SOLDIERS GROVE, Wis.—One of the largest families in the nation lives on a farm on the edge of the small town of Soldiers Grove (population 700).

The family recently gained national prominence with the birth of the 21st child—a boy—to Mrs. Fred Schoville.

The 40 year old Soldiers Grove woman declared at a family reunion last year that the son, Charles, then 6 months old, would "be the last—but I've been wrong so often."

Mrs. Schoville has had 12 girls and nine boys in her 26 years of married life. Of her 20 living children, the oldest is 25. One boy died in infancy.

Schoville, 44, rents a 280 acre farm and earns extra money selling oil burners, oil and calendars.

"We've been a happy family," Mrs. Schoville told reporters. "It's because we trust in the Lord, and the oldest children have always been willing to take care of the younger ones."

A Base Metal
By the alchemists' standards, tin — "stannum" in Latin — was a "base" metal — too common to be ranked with gold or silver or platinum. But in today's troubled world, where a sudden cessation of tin mining would cause industrial crisis and household discomfort, tin is a precious metal—plus.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice of Proposed Change in Electric Schedules E-2 and E-2-0
PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on June 15, 1951, the proposed revisions and cancellations listed below:

1. The revision of the following commercial and industrial rates and rider: Rate 6, General Electric Service; Rate 11, Industrial Electric Service; Rate 12, Industrial Electric Service; Rate 13, Industrial Electric Service—Off-Peak; Rate 77, Ice Making Service; Rate 78, Commercial Electric Service; Rider 18, Public Grist Mill—Limited-Hour Service.

These rates and rider are being transferred to the Company's new schedule applying to its entire territory. Rates 11, 12, and 13 provide reductions in minimum charges. In addition a change in application of charges is proposed for Rate 13 which will affect only off-peak demand billing in excess of 25,000 kilowatts. There is also an increase in charges proposed for Rate 6 affecting larger customers on the rate, most of whom will be able to take advantage of the lower charges on Rates 11, 12 and 13. Rate charges on Rate 11, 12 and 13. Rate 77 proposes the incorporation of a fuel clause for large ice-making customers. Rate 78 is made applicable to the entire territory of the Company. Rider 18, an obsolete rider, is revised to provide for progressively higher maximum charges each year and cancellation of the rider on January 1, 1954.

2. The cancellation of the following obsolete rates and rider: Rate 77, Large Power and Light Service; Rate 81, Industrial Electric Service—Off-Peak; Rider 16, Limited-Hour Service. The billing for the customers now served on these obsolete rates and the obsolete rider will generally be reduced when service is taken under Rates 11, 12 and 13, with their lower charges and the proposed reduced minimum charges.

Rate 84, School Electric Service. The seven remaining schools still served under this rate may take service under the governmental Rate 22 or Rate 6, General Electric Service with certain increases in charges.

It is estimated on the basis of use during a recent 12 month period, that the proposed filing will result in a slight decrease in the Company's revenue.

Further information with respect thereto may be obtained either directly from this Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois.

A copy of the proposed change in the schedules may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company.

D-X is a high anti-knock gasoline to which a specially refined lubricant has been scientifically blended. This lubricant gives extra protection to the power parts of the "flame zone"—parts which crankcase oil alone often fails to protect adequately. In addition, D-X provides quick starts, knockless power and long mileage. Try a tankful today! At any D-X dealer's station.

Library Notes

Out of the thousands of books published every year, the small public library must choose those most needed by its patrons. Since the patrons of a public library range in age from six years to eighty years and vary widely in their interests, this is no small task. Many books are in great demand for a time and then are forgotten. These books, usually fiction, have such a short period of usefulness that many libraries are turning to a new way to supply their readers. Instead of buying books that will soon be a burden on the shelves, even though today they are being read and discussed, the small library, which has limited funds and shelf room, rents them from the American Lending Library. The Antioch Township Library has inaugurated this new system and will be able to meet greater demands in the field of popular fiction. Visit your library and let Mrs. Rigby or Miss Williams explain this and many other services of the library.

Are you your own weather forecaster? When the sun is a ball of fire in the West, or there is a ring around the moon, can you tell what tomorrow's weather prospects are? Television has added many new words to our vocabulary, and Clint Youle doesn't always have time to explain his terms. "How about the Weather?" by Robert Fisher, explains forecasting maps and symbols and even describes the simple equipment needed to be your own weather forecaster. "How about the Weather?" was presented to the Antioch Township Library in memory of Ernest L. Simons.

Ruth Cater believes that many people love trees and wish to know more about them, so she has written a delightful and informative book called "Tree Trails and Hobbies." With her guidance the study of our trees can become a rewarding hobby which may be pursued at home or traveling, in the city or in the country. "Tree Trails and Hobbies" was presented to the library in memory of C. J. Roeschlein.

LeTourneau Will Speak At Union Rally July 1 At Zion Auditorium

Robert Gilmour LeTourneau, labeled "God's Business Man" by Believe It Or Not Bob Ripley, manufacturer of more than half of all earth-moving machinery in the world today, will speak at a union rally held in Zion Auditorium, 27th St., Zion, Ill. on Sunday, July 1 at 3 p. m. The rally is sponsored by the ministerial association of Zion, Antioch, Illinois.

with pastors from neighboring cities cooperating.

Mr. LeTourneau's ministry is unique, even for America. Faced with bankruptcy in Dec. 1929, Bob LeTourneau decided first to pay a $500 missionary pledge he had defaulted on. This was in spite of his owing several hundred thousand dollars and being five weeks behind on the payroll of his small factory in Stockton, Cal.

Today, R. G. LeTourneau owns five factories in America and one in Australia manufacturing earth-moving machinery and kindred items such as the house building machine which is today building six to eight houses in Palestine daily at a cost of about $2,000 each.

Birth Increases Over the World Are Continuing

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Birth rates throughout the world rose sharply after the close of World War II and have continued at high levels during the postwar years, insurance statisticians report. In many countries the postwar birth rates have been the highest since the baby boom that followed World War I.

Particularly striking gains were recorded in the United States, where the 1947 peak was one and a half times the average of 1937-1939. Almost as marked was the upswing in such widely separated countries as New Zealand, France, and Canada.

War Saw Rise
Most of the countries had higher birth rates during the war than in the years just before the war started. In the United States, for example, the rates averaged 15 percent higher in 1940-1944 than in 1937-1939, and in Austria, Sweden, Switzerland, and New Zealand the rise from the prewar to the war years was even more pronounced.

"These facts suggest that the postwar rise in births in many of the countries was due not so much to deferment of births during the war as to the improvement of economic conditions from those existing during the depression decade of the 1930's," the statisticians observe.

Declines Slight
Although the world trend has been somewhat downward since 1947, when countries reached their postwar birth rate peak, the declines generally have been slight. In the United States the 1949 rate was only 7 percent lower than that for 1947, and the decreases have been smaller in other countries, including Canada, the Union of South Africa, and Australia.

Exceptions to this are England and Wales, and the Netherlands, where the rates had declined markedly by 1949 from their postwar peaks.

French Upsurge
France, for many years prior to the war on the brink of a population decline, experienced an upsurge of births during the postwar years which by 1947 had carried its birth rate to a point 43 percent higher than the prewar level. By 1949 the French birth rate had dropped only slightly from its postwar peak.

Japan followed the general pattern set by most of the Western countries. Japan's 1947 birth rate was 22 percent above the prewar figure, and the decline from 1947 through 1949 was only 3 percent, although the first 9 months of 1950 showed a sharp fall which may bring the 1950 rate closer to the 1937-1939 level.

Western Germany and Italy have departed from the general pattern. Western Germany's birth rate rose somewhat during the postwar years, but remained below the 1939 figure, and the Italian rate, after rising during 1945 and 1946, declined by 1949 to 15 percent below that for the prewar period.

Future Doubtful
Difficulty is seen by the statisticians in predicting how long the high fertility rate of the postwar world will continue.

"It is surprising that it has lasted through 1949 and well into 1950 in many countries, especially in view of the relatively high birth rates, which prevailed during the war," the statisticians comment. "But we probably will see fairly substantial reductions in the near future, although it is still too early to say when they will come, and how great they will be."

Chicago Boy Escapes Drowning by Small Margin

A nine-year-old Chicago boy, James Boettcher, of 2537 Olivia avenue, narrowly escaped death by drowning through the efforts of Richard Ronning, 4438 Mobile ave., Chicago, and Dr. D. N. Deering of Antioch last Sunday afternoon.

The boy had been visiting friends at Lake Shangri-La, and was in swimming, when he sank below the surface, and was rescued by Ronning, who was also swimming at the time.

Ronning brought the boy to Antioch in a semi-conscious state, where he was revived by Dr. Deering.

SHORT STORY

Hard Boiled Chuck

By Richard H. Wilkinson

CHUCK WALLACE was hard boiled. Women didn't bother him much. Flying did. He owned his own plane and specialized in doing free-lance jobs for private interests, and performing rescues for reward money. He had quite a reputation. When, at the annual pilots' ball, he was presented to red-headed Alma Mallory he wasn't impressed at all.

Alma was. She had heard of Chuck. Alma was very modern, very sure of herself, used to getting what she wanted. She wanted Chuck. Chuck wasn't quick to catch on. When finally he realized what she was up to he had almost fallen into her trap. He was glad when news came in that a young flyer had been lost in the north woods. It gave him a chance to get away. The fact that the young lost flyer was Don Mallory, Alma's brother, didn't bother him at all. This was business. Old Man Mallory, through his lawyers, had offered a fat reward.

Chuck Wallace loaded up and took off the next morning in his seaplane. That night he set down on a little wooded lake, 150 miles from the nearest habitation, and established a base. The next day he began systematically to comb the country.

Alma was very modern, very sure of herself, used to getting what she wanted. And she wanted Chuck.

In the afternoon he returned to his base, and received a shock. There was another plane riding on the surface of the lake. He saw a figure standing on the shore. It was Alma Mallory.

"What's the idea?" he asked. "What do you think? Don's my brother."

She had brought along a lot of the things Chuck hadn't thought necessary. There was nothing he could do about her being there, so he set up one of the tents and ate the supper she cooked for him.

The next day he flew west and covered a strip 25 miles wide. But he didn't sight anything, and was genuinely worried when he returned to the base that night.

THE next morning, just before noon, he sighted a plane on a lake 50 miles east of his base and set down, taxing up beside it. A man stood on one of the wings and called to him. Chuck scowled. He didn't like this. Not a bit of it...

At 2 o'clock he returned to his base and found it deserted. Alma and her plane had gone. He swore and packed up his equipment. The next morning he reached his home landing. He went home and shaved and bathed and got into bed. He was dead tired, but he couldn't sleep.

The next morning he took a taxi to the Mallory home and asked for Alma. A butler told him that she had gone down to Briarsfield to visit friends. The friends' name was Hanscom. Chuck caught a train for Briarsfield that afternoon. He arrived at 5 o'clock and located the Hanscom home. Alma, they told him, was out horseback riding with a chap named Rodney Nuys.

Chuck rented a horse and went looking for her. Two miles from the Hanscom home he came to a spot where the bridge trail widened. There were two horses in the clearing, standing close together. Rodney Nuys was trying to kiss the rider of the other, a red-headed girl.

Chuck rode up close and elbowed the gent so hard he fell out of the saddle. Then he grabbed hold of the girl and shook her roughly.

"What's the idea?" he barked. "I found your brother in a little lake 50 miles east of the base. He was looking for us. He said he didn't think it was so smart for his sister to give out that he was lost, when he really wasn't—just so she could send Chuck Wallace up into the country and then follow. What's the idea?"

Alma looked at him defiantly. "What do you think?" she said. "You big indifferent lummock! And why do you think I gave up and came home?"

Chuck blinked, but maintained his hold on her arm. For the first time when looking at the girl, he grinned. "Do you want me to tell you what I think?" he asked.

"Yes," said Alma.

Francisco's Boxers Win At Various Exhibits

Mrs. B. E. Francisco Sr.'s dark brindle boxer female Chnaudes Wigenlieds Liebchen won the open class, and then went on to winners female at the Chain O' Lakes Kennel club show held at Waukegan June 16. There was a good entry of boxers from all over the country. This was her first time out as a grown dog. Previous to this she had won 8 blue ribbons as a puppy, at an exhibit held in Brookfield in April, she was best in match over 127 boxers. Several of her blue ribbons were won in Florida last winter. The Franciscos' fawn boxer male Don Juan II just came back from Minneapolis where he won winners male and some very beautiful trophies.

Wrestling

The Mighty Atlas, world's strongest athlete has signed with Promoter Fred Kohler to wrestle the unruly Gypsy Joe in the scheduled sixty minute windup next Friday night, June 22nd in the Lake County Stadium in Round Lake Park, Illinois. The bout will be a two out of three fall verdict.

In addition to the attractive main event, Kohler signed an Australian Tagmatch that features the "Mad Russian," Leon Kirilenko and Al Williams against Tommy Martindale, of Milwaukee and Carl Engstrom. The team of Kirilenko and Williams is one of the most rugged duos ever teamed together. They are not only experienced and shrewd, but they have tempers that are sure to get them into trouble with the referee. Kohler would like to request two officials for this match.

Getting back to the main event, fans believe that The Mighty Atlas will experience plenty of trouble with Gypsy Joe, even though the "Gypsy" must give away weight. They reason that Gypsy Joe has become well acquainted with the "Atlas nelson" and he will be on the lookout for this devastating grip. Gypsy Joe is speedier than his rival and has the experience to cope with a slower moving foe.

Gypsy Joe will have Mrs. Gypsy Joe as his advisor in this match. The personable young lady is always at the ringside when her husband wrestles and she not only coaches him in signal, but she is quick to size up a situation and inform her husband when difficulty is near.

Tommy Martindale and Carl Engstrom, who are teamed against Kirilenko and Williams are two of the younger group of wrestlers, known for their aggressive and crafty tactics. If the going gets rough, the pair are just as tough as the two veteran stars they encounter.

Juan Hernandez, who hails from Mexico, tangles with Bozo Brown, California heavyweight. Hernandez must rely upon his speed to offset the hard boiled actions of his rival. He believes he is equal to the task and is preparing an offense that should sweep Brown off his feet. The latter, who carries 220 pounds of weight, nevertheless moves fast for a man his size.

Wrestling is a regular Friday feature at Round Lake Park.

Transport Director Urges Consumers to Store Fuel During Summer Months

Taking notice of a nation-wide program of summer fuel buying launched this week by the Secretary of the Interior with an appeal to Government agencies, industrial and residential consumers, Defense Transport Administrator James K. Knudson issued a statement underscoring the transportation aspects of that program.

Administrator Knudson noted that widespread suffering was prevented last winter by the near miracles in transportation and warned that the mounting burden of defense and defense supporting traffic will, by this fall and winter, make such heavy demands upon the nation's transport capacity as to create the unlikely prospects that relief can promptly be provided for spot areas in distress. The normal peak movement occurring in October and November must this year, he said, be spread over a longer period including the summer months. The Administrator continued:

"Defense plants are already stepping up production and their requirements for coal and other fuel will grow steadily greater. Transportation must be provided this year for ten per cent more coal than was produced in 1950 and freight cars suitable for hauling coal are in short supply and will become more so. The situation is, if anything, more acute with respect to tank cars suited to the transportation of fuel oil and liquefied petroleum gases. Cars of these types are experiencing an increasingly heavy demand in high priority defense activities.

SHORT STORY

Obadiah

By Richard H. Wilkinson

OBADIAH Nelson was a man of unappreciated qualities. For two years he had worked as clerk in the scenario department of Magnificent Films, Inc., and had thought up ideas for pictures which scenario writers wrote into scripts and directors produced for a neat profit.

"Lady Luck," Magnificent's most recent success, had netted the house something over a million dollars. Noel Norbert, who wrote the script received $2000, and Obadiah, who thought up the idea, collected his $500 per week.

Ada Adams, who occupied a desk next to Obadiah's and who earned $50 a week reading stories, knew what was going on and told Obadiah in no uncertain terms what she thought of him.

"Barnum was right," she said. "How a man can be such a sucker and still live is beyond me."

Obadiah blushed to the roots of his hair.

"Why, shucks, I didn't do anything. It was just an idea I had that I mentioned to Mr. Norbert."

And Mr. Norbert collected $2000 for it."

"Well, how's Magnificent's $500 a week sucker today?" Ada asked Obadiah.

A month later Magnificent began work on "Love's Appeal." Noel Norbert had turned in the script after taking Obadiah to lunch. A week after that Ada Adams came into the little restaurant on Sunset boulevard where Obadiah was eating lunch.

"Well, how's Magnificent's $500 a week sucker today?" she asked. "They tell me Mr. Norbert has turned in another box-office success that you thought up for him. He's asking $2500 for it."

Obadiah's face went white. Without knowing it Miss Adams had aggravated a wound that she had inflicted five weeks previous with her first scathing comment on Mr. Nelson's lack of what it takes to get ahead. She was, therefore, astonished when Obadiah suddenly rose without a word and left her.

Outside, his cheeks still rather pale, Obadiah was hastening toward the Magnificent studios.

"Mr. Maurice," began Obadiah firmly, "I want to know why it is that you pay $2000 to Noel Norbert for writing scenarios that I think up. No, don't answer. I know why. It's because you think I'm a sucker without enough backbone to stand up for my rights. Well, let me tell you something. I mean, you can drive a horse to water but you can't make him willing—I mean, drink. Or something. Anyway, I'm quitting. The Pacific studios have offered me a thousand a week to work for them."

Obadiah paused, breathing heavily, and mopped his brow. "Well," he said, "I guess that's all."

"Is that so?" said Mr. Maurice.

"Well, young man, you're wrong. That ain't half of it." And he punched a bell button on his desk.

ADA ADAMS was eating dinner in the same little restaurant on Sunset that evening when Obadiah came in.

"Well," he said, "I've been raised from $500 a week to $1000."

"So, I heard," said Ada. "Congratulations. I'll bet you could have got more, however, if you'd gone back to Pacific and told them that Maurice was meeting their price."

"I couldn't," said Obadiah, "because Pacific never offered anything in the first place."

Ada stared in open-mouth wonder. "Well, well, well," she said. "And likewise, well,"

"Even if they had," said Obadiah, "I couldn't have thought up ideas for Pacific anyhow."

"Why?" asked Ada.

"Because you wouldn't have been there," said Obadiah. "All those ideas I thought up were about you and me. Just seeing you put them into my head. Without you I couldn't think of anything. In fact," he added, "sometimes I can't think of anything with you."

Ada swallowed a scallop whole. "For goodness sake!" she exclaimed. "Obadiah Nelson, I didn't think you had it in you to propose marriage."

"Propose?" said Obadiah. "Who's proposing? But it's not a bad idea at that."

Nearing Millonth

The fast pace towards the millonth traffic death since 1900 was speeded up last year by increases in fatalities in 43 states and the District of Columbia—the largest number to report an upward trend since 1946—while only five states held street and highway deaths below their 1949 tolls, a survey by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies disclosed today.

PLENTY DEGREES COOLER INSIDE

THESE folks are enjoying something that's being pioneered by Buick.

It's freedom from the blinding glare of bright summer sunlight.

It's freedom from hot laps—caused by the sun's rays beating down through the broad expanse of windshield.

These freedoms trace to a new feature you may have noticed in '51 Buicks—a new kind of glass with a cool, soft, blue-green tint, in every glass area of the car, front, side and back.

Buick engineers tell us that this "Buick first" reduces glare 18% over conventional glass—cuts sun heat as much as 45%—and Buick engineers are very conservative fellows.

This glare-and-heat-reducing Easy-eye glass is factory-installed at moderate extra charge. It gives you a built-in transparent "sun visor" right in the windshield—and it also dulls the dazzle of oncoming headlights at night.

As we've said, this is something Buick owners were the first to enjoy. It takes (Optional at extra cost—available on most models. (Not presently available in California and Massachusetts.)

its place with such exclusives as the valve-in-head Fireball Engine—coil springs on all four wheels—the firm power linkage of torque-tube drive—and the magic of Dynaflo.*

As we've also said—rather modestly—"Smart buy's Buick."

Come in soon and find out what an understatement that really is.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

No other car provides all this:

4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING • DUAL VENTILATION
PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT • TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE
WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS • DREAMLINE STYLING

It's a good idea to instill the idea of thrift at an early age. Here is a good way to do it: Open an account for your youngster and teach him to make a deposit each time the piggy bank is filled. Regular thrift lessons now will help a lot later in life. Come in; get started now.

MICROSOL FOG GENERATOR
is Fast, Easy to Use, and Efficient

Here is good news on fly and insect control! By a revolutionary new method, the Microsol Fog Generator gives more complete, longer lasting coverage of insecticides than is possible with conventional spray machines.

Every second the Microsol Generator is in operation, it produces and distributes millions of insecticide molecules less than 1/500th of an inch in diameter! These accumulated molecules create a penetrating aerosol fog or mist that remains suspended in air, giving the insecticide lasting, deadly effect as well as instant action.

The Microsol Generator is small and weighs only 11½ pounds. To operate it you simply fill container with any insecticide (with water or oil base, ready-mixed or home prepared) and place the machine in center of area to be fogged. Turn the switch and regulate handy valve for density of fog. Spray a cow in seconds... the barn in minutes... with an insecticide fog that reaches even tiniest crevices.

Plan now, before fly time sets in, to investigate this latest improved method of insect control. Microsol Fog Generators are now being used successfully in dairy barns, poultry houses, stables and other buildings. See your local Public Service Company Engineer for additional information.

What About Spanish Rice? There is no trace of rice as a native plant in the early histories of Egypt, Persia, Greece or Rome. It is not mentioned in the Bible; but its culture is alluded to in the Talmud. There is proof of its culture in the Euphrates Valley and in Syria, four hundred years before Christ.

Hungarian Research
Hungarian physicists, using uranium and thorium found in the Velence Hill, are reported pursuing atomic research "on a large scale" at a place 30 miles southwest of Budapest.

A-Bomb
An atomic bomb set off in mid-air, about 2,000 feet from ground level, is more destructive than either a water or ground burst, so we must consider this kind of attack as the most likely.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice of Proposed Change in Electric schedules
PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS hereby gives notice to the public that it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on June 14, 1951, a new schedule of rates for electric service, Schedule E-3.

On December 15, 1950, Western United Gas and Electric Company and Illinois Northern Utilities Company were merged into Public Service Company of Northern Illinois. The seven schedules for electric service as in effect prior to the merger were continued in effect after the merger as schedules of Public Service. The proposed new schedule will replace portions of these existing schedules as the first step in the Company's plan to develop one schedule which will apply to the entire territory now served by Public Service. By this filing certain similar rates and riders now appearing in various existing schedules are consolidated in the new schedule. This filing makes no change in charges. Minor changes in text are made for purposes of standardization.

Further information with respect thereto may be obtained either directly from this Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois

Commerce Commission at Springfield, Illinois.

A copy of the proposed change in the schedules may be inspected by any interested party at any business office of this Company. PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY of Northern Illinois

Night Bloomers

Is there a flower which blooms only at night? There are a number of flowers which do this. Most of them are strongly scented, sometimes almost overpowering in sweetness, and they are generally white or pale yellow. They are pollinated by various kinds of moths. Some of the more common of these plants are the "Night-blooming Cereus" (the common name for several species of cactus), the Moonflower, several species of Evening Primrose, and the Angel's Trumpet.

Standard Item

The silver nutmeg grater was a standard pocket piece of gentlemen two centuries ago. Apparently it was roughly a parallel of the cigarette lighter of today.

Brush Deserves Care

When painting, don't jam a brush into corners. It buckles the bristle and spoils it for good work.
